By considering the effect of inaction, you'll realize that the potential positive outcomes can far outweigh perceived risks. First, You must be willing to experiment and live intentionally rather than out of habit. To live intentionally you are able to become aware of the things that are most important. Listen to the possibilities in this professional organizing class and learn how you can improve your life through choosing what stays and what goes. Learn why you cant keep your house tidy. Listen to ways in which your decision making to discard or to keep objects has to do with your personality and inaction. In this class you'll be able to visualize your space within your home and finish with discarding.
